My Brother's Keeper: A Community and School Challenge

Partner Organizations/Committees: Disproportionality in Discipline, Seattle Public Schools, Charity Company, Northwest African Museum, African American Males Advisory, Equity and Race

According to Effective Schools Research, urban schools that teach poor children successfully have strong leadership and a climate of expectation that students will learn. Strong Community Stakeholders working with families and schools can make a difference in learning lives of children. Your voice counts! School Leaders, Educators, and community stakeholders make a difference in educating all children and especially children of African descent.
